1. Eight to nine hundred Germans were confined in the penitentiary of WALDLITZ, near GITSCHIN (JICIN), Czechoslovakia, in September 1949. Most were ex-members of the German Armed Forces who returned from American captivity to Bohemia, their native country.
2. Three to five hundred political prisoners were sent from the WALDLITZ penitentiary to the ore mines in JOACHIMS-THAL in the summer of 1949.
3. With the German PWs in Czechoslovakia taken over by the administration of justice and carried as political prisoners, there are no PW camps in Czechoslovakia at present. German political prisoners are still detained in the following camps (in addition to WALDLITZ): PRAGUE-PANKRAZ (about 100 German political prisoners), MIRAU near OLMUTZ, and PILSEN.

[REDACTED] Comment:

According to other reports the number of detainees in the WALDLITZ penitentiary is much higher.
